RODENT TOXINS
RATABATE for RATS (Diphacinone 0.05g/kg)
Ratabate & the D Block range uses diphacinone as the active. Diphacinone is a 1st generation anticoagulant with a 1/2 life of only 3 days. Compare this with 2nd generation anticoagulants such as brodifacoum which is used in many rat & possum baits in New Zealand. This has a 1/2 life of 113 days. This significant increase in 1/2 life means it remains in the environment for considerable lengths of time & is banned from the DOC estate.
Diphacinone is the environmentally responsible choice for conservationists.
Ratabate is a paste bait.
